Unlocking Potential – Raising Achievement

BSF Phase 1 - Our transformed school buildings will be completed by September 2012

Vision Statement

At the International school we believe that literacy skills are central to the development of learning, personal and social development and to lifelong learning.

Thus giving pupils the opportunity to contribute to the development of a successful life, where they can appreciate, enjoy, understand, evaluate, discuss and make informed choices and decisions.

All students should experience a balanced literacy skills environment regardless of perceived ability and parental tongue, and Literacy in every parental tongue should be valued.

We recognise that all modes of language contribute to the development of literacy: Talking, Listening, Reading and Writing. By using these modes of language for specific purposes in specific contexts students can develop knowledge, understanding and skills for learning.

As literacy is central to learning in all areas of the curriculum it is the responsibility of all teachers to endeavour to deliver and promote high standards of literacy in all lessons.

What is the point of Literacy?

The point of literacy is to promote the skills students need to access the whole school curriculum confidently and effectively and also prepare them to communicate and think critically in all aspects of their lives.

The policy is here to reinforce the principles of literacy skills needed in all areas of the curriculum to enable students to appreciate that there is a common expectation of these skills in all lessons. The policy supports a common approach across the school to ensure consistency between subjects and avoid confusion due to conflicting methods.

We are committed to:

- Securing high standards of literacy across the school through developing a whole school Literacy Policy which enables staff to access support and guidance.
- Ensuring that a consistent approach to literacy is adopted by all staff to reinforce the skills needed and keep student confusion to the minimum.
- Ensuring an effective cross-curricular approach and identifying opportunities; indicating and facilitating areas for collaboration.
- Assisting in the transfer of skills and understanding between all subjects.
- Ensure that students are aware of what is expected of their literacy skills.
- Liaising with the Coordinator and Literacy reps within their faculties whenever support for a literacy activity or joint approach is required to ensure consistency.

Consistency in teaching literacy is achieved when

- Literacy skills are taught consistently and systematically across the curriculum.
- Expectation of standards of accuracy and presentation are similar in all classrooms,
- Teachers are equipped to deal with literacy issues in their subject both generically and specifically.
- The same strategies are used across the school: the teaching sequence for writing; active reading strategies; planning speaking and listening for learning,
- The literacy learning that pupils are doing in English, and specific intervention programmes, is consolidated in other lessons,
- Teachers use the same terminology to describe language.
- Common curricular targets are agreed for each year group and are built into subject plans.

Students should:

Spelling and vocabulary

Students should be able to

- Correctly spell the subject specific key words
- Understand the meaning of the subject specific key words
- Use subject specific key words in context in their writing

Reading

Students should be able to -

- Read and follow written instructions.
- Read to explore and to develop understanding.
- Sift, select and take notes from the text.

Cross curricular Literacy

Literacy underpins the student's ability to access all areas of the curriculum and express their knowledge and understanding.

All lessons include and largely depend on oral and written communication. The teacher explains questions, describes, organises and evaluates in the classroom and does this mostly through talk, and sometimes through writing.

Unlocking Potential – Raising Achievement

Pupils often answer, discuss and work out their ideas through talk.

They commonly write in order to record, summarise, note, show evidence of understanding and develop analyses and arguments. Successful learners read to gain access to and evaluate information and ideas from a range of texts and sources.

It is therefore the responsibility of all teachers to support and contribute the development of literacy skills.

It is important that we work together to ensure we equip pupils with basic life skills in literacy and identify opportunities for cross-curricular and literacy development.

Collaboration between The English Faculty with other subject areas can have different purposes:

- Collaboration can help to raise standards in ALL subjects.
- The Literacy Coordinator and Literacy Reps can support the work of other subjects.
- Other subjects can provide a context for Literacy.
- Collaboration can help pupils make connections.

All Subject teachers should:

- Ensure that 'subject specific literacy' is clearly identified in schemes of work, and that there is obvious progression through the key stages.
- Ensure that they are familiar with the specific literacy demands of their subject and plan to cover these skills in their lessons.
- Use the agreed strategies in order to teach Writing, Speaking, Listening and Reading skills.
- Be aware of appropriate expectations of students and difficulties that might be experienced with literacy skills.
- Ensuring they are familiar with the Literacy Policy and Literacy and Learning subject specific materials

Faculties should ensure that:

- A copy of the following is available to all staff:
 - The Literacy Policy
 - Connective Mats
 - Key words
 - Literacy Faculty audit
 - Schemes of Work identify opportunities for Literacy.
 - They receive support from Literacy Coordinator and Faculty Reps if and when required.

Implementing the Literacy Policy and Development

Improving attainment in Literacy is a key target for whole-school development.

We aim to:

- Agree whole school strategies for literacy and ensure all staff is aware of these.
- Ensure appropriate training in these strategies is offered to all staff as required.
- Develop a Literacy Group Representative of all disciplines to support the Literacy Co-Coordinator and literacy development across Faculties.
- Encourage Faculties to consider areas for collaboration and cross-curricular Literacy development.

All documents referred to can be found on the Literacy section of the shared area.

Strategies for Promoting Literacy

Whole School

In order to ensure that all students are taught literacy skills in an effective manner, the school will ensure that:

- Staff know what the specific objectives are for reading and speaking and listening;
- Staff share effective strategies for embedding literary within faculties.

Inclusive Approaches

We strive to support all students' achievement in Literacy; for all students to achieve their full potential the school will ensure that:

- Gifted and talented students will be supported by using a framework of challenging objectives;
- Students with special educational needs will be taught in an appropriate manner in accordance with individual targets set in student individual educational plans (the school's Special Educational Needs Policy provides more precise detail)
- The school will introduce a variety of targeted intervention initiative aimed at school action and school action plus students, for example intensive family literacy programmes, computer based programmes (My Reading Coach), building links with local football clubs etc.
